You are cordially invited to attend a “Sneak Peek”, free of charge, walk through of the Kansas City Aeronautical Museum (KCAM), formerly the Airline History Museum.

The museum, which has been closed for several years, is in a mild state of disrepair, so dress warmly and be among the first to gaze upon the irreplaceable aviation artifacts contained within.

KCAM Directors will take you on a guided tour to share their vision of the rebirth and expansion of this valuable, public use, historic asset.

Your input and comments are welcome.
